bottom of Miluk Drive.

Amber and Mike's names were drawn from the entries CIHA received regarding the "informational reflectors" at the bottom of Miluk Drive.

The reflectors spell "Miluk" in Morse Code. -- ··· ···· ··· ---

Amber and Mike each won a $25 gift card. Thank you to everyone who submitted an entry!

Companion Animal Guidelines and Requirements

Christmas is a popular time to bring home an adorable kitten or puppy to surprise your child or family.

Please remember ... pets are NOT allowed on Tribal Lands in rental units.

Companion animals require a doctor's prescription. The animal MUST be spayed or neutered and up-to-date on ALL vaccinations - NO EXCEPTIONS; this is a requirement.

Companion animals must be approved by CIHA BEFORE being added to the household. Call Dale for more information.

The local S/Nipped facility offers low-cost spay and neuter services and vaccinations. Contact S/Nipped at 541-808-2377.

If your medicine cabinet contains medications that have expired or are no longer needed, you've probably wondered about the best way to dispose of them. Safe disposal of medications can prevent accidental poisonings, medication misuse/abuse, and helps protect the environment.

The best way to dispose of medications is to use community-based drug take-back programs. The Drug Enforcement Agency's website supports a search tool to find an authorized drug disposal collector in your area. The DEA also offers National Prescription Take-Back Days twice a year, in April and October. Visit the DEA website for more information, www.dea.gov.

If you need to dispose of medication before a Take-Back Day is available, most medications can be disposed of in the trash with a few precautions.

- ◆ Take the medication out of its original container and mix it with used coffee grounds, cat litter, or dirt to disguise the medication and make it less desirable to pets, children, or persons seeking drugs.
- ◆ Place the mixture in a sealable plastic bag, empty can, or plastic container to contain it.
- ◆ Throw the container in your household trash.
- ◆ Remove and dispose of the prescription label from the empty medicine container.

Holiday Scams and Malware Campaigns

US-CERT (United States Computer Emergency Readiness Team) reminds users to remain vigilant when browsing or shopping online this holiday season.

Emails and ecards from unknown senders may contain malicious links. Fake advertisements or shipping notifications may deliver attachments that are infected with malware. Spoofed email messages and phony posts on social networking sites may request support for fraudulent causes.

To avoid becoming a victim of an internet scam that could result in security breaches, identity theft, or financial loss, internet users are encouraged to take the following actions.

- ◆ Avoid following unsolicited links or downloading attachments from unknown sources
- ◆ Do business with reputable vendors
- ◆ Make sure your online transaction information is being encrypted (you will see a URL that begins with "https" instead of "http" and a padlock icon)
- ◆ Be wary of emails "requesting information" (attackers may send emails requesting that you confirm purchase or account information)
- ◆ Use a credit card instead of a debit card (there are laws to limit your liability for fraudulent credit card charges)
- ◆ Check your shopping app settings (look for apps that tell you what they do with your data and how they keep it secure)
- ◆ Check privacy policies (before providing personal or financial information, check the website's privacy policy and make sure you understand how your information will be stored and used)

Staying safe online isn't complicated, but you do need to be aware of how scammers operate and be constantly on guard. Identity theft can be devastating and costly. Fraudulent debit card charges can wipe out your bank account. Fraudulent credit card charges are inconvenient and time-consuming.

Please check out the links below for in-depth information that may save you from becoming an internet scam victim, whether during the holidays, or just during casual online shopping.
